A Better Life (2011)
An illegal alien in L.A. protects his son from gangs and works as a gardener in order to build a better life for his family.

All the President's Men (1976)
Reporters Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein investigate a 1972 burglary at the Democratic National Committee headquarters, eventually discovering a cover-up that would lead to the president's resignation. Adaptation of Woodward and Bernstein's book.

Beloved (1998)
A former slave is haunted by her experiences in this adaptation of Toni Morrison's novel, which blends tragedy and adventure with the supernatural.
Biutiful (2009)

Dignified criminal and caring family man Uxbal (Javier Bardem) is diagnosed with a terminal illness and struggles to put his affairs in order before he passes away.

BlacKkKlansman (2018)

A black detective sets out to infiltrate the Colorado chapter of the Ku Klux Klan with the help of his Jewish colleague. In the midst of the 1970s civil rights movement, they risk their lives to obtain insider information on the violent organization.

Carol (2015)

A female department-store worker in 1950s New York falls for a woman stuck in a loveless marriage. Unfortunately, the latter's husband threatens to take their child if the relationship between the two women continues.
Dallas Buyers Club (2013)

An HIV-positive man traffics unapproved medical drugs in order to help fellow patients during an era when doctors were still struggling to understand the virus.

Deepwater Horizon (2016)

Docudrama about the Deepwater Horizon disaster, the 2010 oil-rig explosion in the Gulf of Mexico that resulted in the largest offshore oil spill in U.S. history. The film depicts the challenges that the rig's crew faced as they fought for survival.

Ferris Bueller's Day Off (1986)

A charismatic high-school student convinces his repressed best friend to play hooky with him and his girlfriend and attempts to bring the young man out of his shell during a memorable day in Chicago.
Gattaca (1997)

In a genetically perfect world, a flawed subject tries to be one of the elite. Ethan Hawke, Jude Law, Uma Thurman, Alan Arkin. Andrew Niccol directed.

Hamlet (1996)

Kenneth Branagh directed and plays the brooding prince in this version of Shakespeare's play. Julie Christie, Derek Jacobi.

Jinn (2018)

An American mother suddenly converts to Islam leaving her daughter questioning her own identity and faith. The daughter later becomes romantically interested in her Muslim classmate, and she faces the questions that have plagued her.
Lion (2016)

An Indian man who was adopted as a child by an Australian couple searches for his birth family.

Rear Window (1954)

A laid-up magazine photographer witnesses a possible murder from his apartment window.

Rebel Without a Cause (1955)

A sullen teenager tries to fit in after moving with his parents to a well-to-do Los Angeles suburb, where he finds love, friendship and new enemies amid the alienation, rebelliousness and violence.
Shakespeare in Love (1998)

Best Picture winner is about the playwright and his muse, who inspires him to write "Romeo and Juliet." Gwyneth Paltrow won an Oscar for her role as the muse.

Stand by Me (1986)

A coming-of-age tale about four 12-year-old boys who search for a dead body in the woods near where they live. In the process, their friendship is tested.

The American President (1995)

A widowed Chief Executive's courtship of an aggressive lobbyist raises the ire of the press, the public and a rival senator.
The Breakfast Club (1985)
Five high-school students from different cliques spend a day-long detention together, and discover that they have more in common than they ever expected.

The Mighty (1998)
Two mismatched teens bond with one another due to their circumstances. Sharon Stone, Gena Rowlands, Kieran Culkin, Elden Henson.

The Perks of Being a Wallflower (2012)
A timid teenager copes with the pains of adolescence with the help of two new friends, a beautiful high-school senior and her gay stepbrother.
The Runaways (2010)

Kristen Stewart stars in this docudrama about the all-female rock band the Runaways and the lead singers' rocky relationship throughout the years as they made a huge impact on the music scene.

Wag the Dog (1997)

Film producer stages fake war to conceal political scandal. Dustin Hoffman, Robert De Niro, Anne Heche, Woody Harrelson.